ELECTIVE COURSES

The final year of the undergraduate program is flexible, allowing students the possibility to customize their curricular plan according to their areas of interest, selecting from a range of elective courses available. These include not only courses offered at CATÓLICA-LISBON, but also from other schools of Universidade Católica Portuguesa or from the hosting school during their exchange experience.

LEARN IN ACTION PROGRAM

The Learn in Action Program is a soft-skill and career development program included in the compulsory study plan, exclusively designed for our undergraduate students. It develops “hands-on” skills that are a crucial complement to academic knowledge and prepares you for the entry in a global job market and an outstanding career. A range of personal skills as well as preparation for recruitment processes will be addressed by experienced and specialized speakers. It also includes the chance to engage in extra-curricular activities that develop key competences for a successful professional future: internships, volunteering and entrepreneurship projects.

In order to fulfil this requirement students need to complete 3 ECTS. Through the participation in different activities students will be granted points that then will be converted in ECTS. Students need to collect 42 Points and complete the following mandatory requirements:

- Approved CV in the careerNETwork platform
- Approval in the Oral and Written Communication workshop
- Approval in one personal development workshop (choose among topics available)
- Approval in one recruitment workshop (choose among topics available)
- Approval in one job market knowledge activity (choose among different activities, including validation of an internship, volunteering or entrepreneurship project).

Students may add up to 1 ECTS more (to the mandatory 3 ECTS) in case they validate an internship, volunteering or entrepreneurship project. This validation will depend on the length and type of experience obtained, and can be worth between 6 and 18 Points.
